A Short Introduction to Japanese Politics

衛藤 幹子

開講時期：秋学期授業/Fall | 単位数：2 単位
 曜日・時限：月 3/Mon.3 | キャンパス：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya
 毎年・隔年： | 科目主催学部：Law
 備考：

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

The purpose of this course is to study an overview of contemporary Japanese politics. The course will teach you the basic knowledge of Japanese politics, focusing on the legislative system, legislators/lawmakers, elections, political parties and policy-making. It will also discuss Japan's democracy from gender perspectives. Japan has advanced socio-economically since surrendering to the Allies in August 1945. Amongst non-Western nations, Japan is the most successful in terms of building a stable democratic regime, modernizing society, and achieving high economic growth. Democracy in Japan has developed steadily. However, the Japanese project of democracy is not yet fully done. There are many flaws in Japan's democratic regime. Of them, here, two problems will be highlighted: one is an extremely low turnout of young Japanese; and the other is that the proportion of Japanese female legislators lags far behind many other countries including non-Western developing countries. Why are younger generations inactive in visiting polling stations? What causes women's under-representation? In this class, I encourage you to look for the answers to these questions in your ways, though I will give you some hints. You are further expected to find solutions to these problems and to consider a way of developing Japanese democracy more. With these regards in mind, I attempt to provide you with fresh viewpoints of Japanese politics and society.

【到達目標】

The course pursues three goals. First, you will acquire knowledge and information about part of Japanese politics — unfortunately, it will be able to cover only a part of Japanese politics. The second goal is to learn a way of thinking socio-political circumstances surrounding Japanese people, specifically women and young people, through political lens. Finally, the course attempts to stimulate your interests in Japanese politics. Hopefully, the course could open up a door to your further study of Japanese politics.

【この授業を履修することで学部等のディプロマポリシーに示されたどの能力を習得することができるか（該当授業科目と学位授与方針に明示された学習成果との関連）】

【授業の進め方と方法】

The course will employ the so-called participatory style of learning, where you need to be actively involved in the class discussion. I will first talk about the subject for 60 minutes. Subsequently, you will discuss a topic that I give you with your fellow students for 20 minutes. The discussion will be conducted by group or pair. The remaining time will be used for your presentation. I distribute you materials that I will use in advance, so that you should read it before the class to make a preparation of the discussion. I hope you are ready for your questions and comments on my talk.

This course examines culture and society of the United States in comparison with other countries of immigrants such as Canada and Mexico, focusing on its transborderness and mobility. Often conceived of as a cross-border experience across regions and nations, the experience of traveling has been one of the central concerns in the history of literary and visual narratives particularly in the US. It was more study at home than in class. - This is true, if you do not prepare enough at home, you won't be able to participate in class discussions or provide your ideas in group projects. Classes are where your learned theories are put into practice (i.e. case studies).

Class did not cover all the content in the syllabus. - This was true. From the homework students submitted, it was found that more time was needed to understand the content. Content has been reduced this year.

More Q&A time was needed. - Will have Q&A time at the beginning of each class.

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

ON-LINE OUTLINE

THIS ON-LINE COURSE IS ORGANIZED AROUND AN “ACTIVE LEARNING” APPROACH. IN ACTIVE LEARNING, THE STUDENTS ARE ENCOURAGED INDIVIDUALLY (E.G., SELF-STUDY) AND COLLECTIVELY (E.G., GROUP WORK) TO EXPLORE AND DISCOVER THE SUBJECT MATTER'S KEY LEARNING POINTS UNDER THEIR OWN INITIATIVE (WITH SOME TEACHER GUIDANCE OF COURSE). IN THIS CONNECTION, THE CONTENTS OF THIS ON-LINE COURSE REMAINS UNCHANGED FROM THE IN-CLASS COURSE; HOWEVER, YOU WILL RECEIVE YOUR INSTRUCTION THIS SEMESTER THROUGH (1) PRIMARILY THE COURSE HOPPII WEBPAGE'S ASSIGNMENT BOX (WEEKLY), (2) SUPPLEMENTAL ZOOM SESSIONS (3-5 SESSIONS), AND (3) E-MAIL COMMUNICATIONS. PLEASE KEEP IN MIND THAT AN ON-LINE COURSE REQUIRES YOU TO PRACTICE GOOD TIME MANAGEMENT AND PLANNING.

Many students are familiar with the Toyota Production System but fewer are aware it is part of the broader business function of operations management (OM). OM is the process of transforming inputs (raw materials, information) into valued-added outputs (goods and services)—in short, the procurement, assembly and distribution of goods as well as services.

In this connection, the main objective of this introductory OM course is for students to develop a functional understanding of the main concepts and methods informing the subject of OM. Furthermore, special attention will be paid to comparing a Japanese monozukuri approach with other countries. This introduction will then form the foundation for the OMI and OMII courses.

【到達目標】

By the end of the course the students should be able to:

- Understand the 3 broad areas of OM: strategic, tactical and operational
- Explain the OM concepts, principles and methods in each of these 3 areas

Acquire critical thinking skills in analyzing the main issues in OM
 The acquisition of these skills will be demonstrated through class/group work participation, assignments and reports/presentations.

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

This course will provide an introduction to the culture and society of contemporary Britain. Students will acquire knowledge about Britain: its geography, climate, history, traditional culture, religion, political system, society, Britishness, and so on. The course will survey British society following globalization after Thatcher's government. Britain in the 70's was a nightmare, economically crippled, politically in a quagmire, and yet culturally vibrant. Thatcher, as prime minister (1979-1990), changed Britain drastically in the 80's. She insisted on free enterprise and deregulation, employed monetarist policies, privatized nationalized industries, passed legislations to weaken trade unions' political power, and was tenaciously skeptical about the deepening of European integration. However, socially, she was conservative and put an emphasis on the importance of traditional family, a self-help work ethic and community. Whether her policies worked well or not is still in discussion, but she is commonly thought to have prepared the way for globalisation, economic success, and the rise of so-called Cool Britannia. Political issues are often related to nation, religion, immigration, ethnicity, class, globalisation, gender, youth culture, and so on.

With UK as a case theme, we also understand the diversity of cultures around the world and the significance of enhancing communication with people from other cultural backgrounds.

【到達目標】

Students will (1) acquire the general knowledge of the society and people in contemporary Britain, (2) learn how one of the most globalized nations has gone through the changes, and (3) think about the new realities and the implications of the changes. By comparing the situations in Britain and Japan, students will gain clearer perspectives on complex issues common in the most advanced and affluent countries.

備考：

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

What is world literature? Why do some books become global bestsellers while others are deemed untranslatable? How does literature relate to other forms of art such as movies or music? This course will introduce the fundamental issues of modern comparative literary studies, including national canons, world literature, translation, and adaptation. We will discuss how comparing works with other texts across genres, languages, time periods, or forms of media can give us a fuller understanding of not only the text itself, but also how systems of literature combine to influence our impression of the text.

【到達目標】

Students will practice critical reading and writing while learning the basic approaches used in comparative literary studies. Students will examine the historical development of comparative literature as a field while utilizing comparative methodology to read and respond to selected texts.

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

This is an introductory course in social psychology, the scientific study of how we view and influence one another. Students are introduced to the theories, research methods, and seminal findings of social psychology. Social Psychology I will primarily focus on how we think about the social world, how we come to understand others, and how we exert influence on others' thoughts, feelings, and behaviors. Topics include perceptions of others and the self, attitudes, conformity, obedience, and persuasion. Social Psychology II will focus on social relations and intergroup dynamics, covering topics such as helping and aggression, group influence, self, emotion, and prejudice. These two courses will complement each other to provide an overview of the main content areas of social psychology.

【到達目標】

This course will introduce students to the perspectives, research methods, and empirical findings in the field of social psychology and cultivate skills in analyzing the social situations and events that we encounter in our everyday lives. By the end of the course, students will be able to (1) identify and understand major theories, principles, and research findings in the field of social psychology, (2) apply social psychological theories and principles to real life experiences, and (3) critically evaluate social psychological theories and research. In Social Psychology I, students will be able to answer the following questions: How are we influenced by our environment and by other people? How do we explain others' behavior? What are attitudes and how do they affect us? What leads to conformity and obedience? When are people persuaded by differing opinions and when are they not?

毎年・隔年： | 科目主催学部：Global and Interdisciplinary Studies

備考：

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

The goal of this course is to introduce the students to various quantitative research methods used in the social sciences. When making important decisions, be it choosing a strategy to increase the sales of a product, implementing an intervention program to boost people's well-being, or selecting a school program to increase students' learning, people can rely on their intuition and experience, or they can base their decisions on facts: data. In this course, students will develop skills to obtain valid and reliable data through experimental and survey methods. The course will also cover topics related to research ethics, some basic statistics, and APA-style writing.

【到達目標】

This course provides an overview of the 'how's and 'why's of quantitative research in social sciences, and it covers such topics as design, ethics, and APA-style writing and such strategies as field experiments and surveys. Students will develop the ability to design, conduct, evaluate, and report empirical studies. By developing hypotheses and critically assessing information, students will improve on their critical thinking skills.

【この授業を履修することで学部等のディプロマポリシーに示されたどの能力を習得することができるか（該当授業科目と学位授与方針に明示された学習成果との関連）】

【授業の進め方と方法】

The course consists of lectures, in which general ideas and methods of research will be presented, and hands-on applications of the methods, in which student's research projects will be planned and presented. Although some of the class time will be set aside for planning students' research, the majority of it will be done as assignments to be completed outside class.

Students will have to complete the assigned homework on time to successfully complete the class. They will be asked to do the readings, create research materials, collect data, etc. outside the class. Please bear in mind that the course will require that students spend a considerable amount of time outside class (at least 2-3 hours every week, sometimes more). Most work will be done in small groups, suggesting that students need to be flexible in finding time to meet other students during the week. Preparatory study and review time for this class are 2 hours each.

English as a Lingua Franca

渡辺 宥泰

開講時期：春学期授業/Spring | 単位数：2 単位

曜日・時限：火 2/Tue.2 | キャンパス：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya

毎年・隔年： | 科目主催学部：Global and Interdisciplinary Studies

備考：

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

The ratio of native to non-native users of English in the world is roughly estimated to be 1:3. However, it was only towards the turn of the century that sociolinguists/applied linguists took a keen interest in the expanding use of English as a lingua franca (ELF), which is due to the globalisation in all aspects of society, including mass media and pop culture. Arguably, some Expanding Circle countries, where English does not have an official language status, have recently overshadowed the Outer Circle ones in proficiency and frequency of use.

The former part of the course observes how extensively English is used in international contexts, mainly among non-native speakers, while analysing phonetically examples of L2-accented speech. It also refers to the limitations in the traditional models of the World English(es) put forward by B. Kachru and other scholars. The latter half discusses native-speakerness, bilingualism and native-speakerism, all of which exert a significant influence on pedagogical practices, and suggests how these notions could/should be modified from the perspective of ELF. The course is concluded with an analysis of status and function of English in present-day Japan.

By the end of the course, students will:

- (1) understand key terminology and concepts in ELF and World English(es),
- (2) have an awareness of the wider use of English in non-native speaking contexts, and
- (3) become familiar with interpreting quantitative/qualitative data for linguistic research.

English as a Lingua Franca

渡辺 宥泰

開講時期：秋学期授業/Fall | 単位数：2 単位

曜日・時限：火 4/Tue.4 | キャンパス：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya

毎年・隔年： | 科目主催学部：Global and Interdisciplinary Studies

備考：

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

The ratio of native to non-native users of English in the world is roughly estimated to be 1:3. However, it was only towards the turn of the century that sociolinguists/applied linguists took a keen interest in the expanding use of English as a lingua franca (ELF), which is due to the globalisation in all aspects of society, including mass media and pop culture. Arguably, some Expanding Circle countries, where English does not have an official language status, have recently overshadowed the Outer Circle ones in proficiency and frequency of use.

The former part of the course observes how extensively English is used in international contexts, mainly among non-native speakers, while analysing phonetically examples of L2-accented speech. It also refers to the limitations in the traditional models of the World English(es) put forward by B. Kachru and other scholars. The latter half discusses native-speakerness, bilingualism and native-speakerism, all of which exert a significant influence on pedagogical practices, and suggests how these notions could/should be modified from the perspective of ELF. The course is concluded with an analysis of status and function of English in present-day Japan.

By the end of the course, students will:

- (1) understand key terminology and concepts in ELF and World English(es),
- (2) have an awareness of the wider use of English in non-native speaking contexts, and
- (3) become familiar with interpreting quantitative/qualitative data for linguistic research.

備考：

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

Southern literature is perhaps the best-known regional literature of the United States, featuring voices, genres, and motifs specific to its distinct tradition. But it is far from a monolith, and the literature of the south reflects the diverse cultures, peoples, and languages of the region. Moreover, southern literature has often given a sharp focus to social, historical, and cultural issues of the United States, serving as a grim counterpoint to more optimistic national mythmaking. This course will focus on southern literature in the twentieth century, exploring how writers respond to questions of war, race, memory, class, and modernization.

【到達目標】

Students will examine the historical context and major themes of southern literature. Students will also develop critical reading and writing skills.

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

How do we process the experience of encountering a new language and culture? How does that process in turn affect our own personal language and identity? In this course, we will read translations of personal essays and fiction written in the Japanese language by contemporary authors undergoing such experiences, including Japanese authors living abroad and non-Japanese authors writing in their adopted language. As we compare their stories and observations, we will also consider how the act of writing provides each author with a space to form and perform new cultural identities and personal idioms.

Students will practice reading and writing critically as they explore dynamics of culture, language, and identity in modern Japanese literature.

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

How does a good short story create an emotional reaction in the reader? How can we learn to use those techniques in our own writing? In this workshop-based course, students will be introduced to the basic skills, tools, and theory of short narrative prose writing, both through reading short stories and composing and editing an original piece of writing over the course of the semester. We will focus on fundamental elements of traditional short fiction, such as characters, dialogue, and narrative viewpoint. Students will also learn about the processes of planning, composing, editing, and revision. This course is designed for varying levels of English ability and writing ability, and will include special emphasis on the composition of fiction in a second language.

【到達目標】

Students will learn and apply the fundamental techniques of writing short stories. Students will also become more critical readers by developing an awareness of the technical elements of prose writing.

Social Theory: Perspectives on Inequality

Diana Khor

開講時期：秋学期授業/Fall | 単位数：2 単位

曜日・時限：木 2/Thu.2 | キャンパス：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya

毎年・隔年： | 科目主催学部：Global and Interdisciplinary Studies

備考：

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

Social inequality has always been a part of human society, and social scientists have invested much effort into “figuring out” why there is social inequality and how social inequality is sustained and reproduced. Earlier efforts focused mostly on socioeconomic inequality, while later endeavors explored racial, gender, sexual inequalities and their interconnections. These efforts resulted in classical and contemporary social theories on inequality. In this course, students will learn these theories, which are interesting in and of themselves, but more importantly, they will learn to think about inequality deeply and sophisticatedly.

【到達目標】

In mastering the social theories covered in this course, students will hone their critical thinking skills, develop their own theories of various aspects of society and the world and consider solutions to lessen inequality. Students will acquire the skills to engage with complex ideas and think systematically and logically, and remaining aware of social injustices and problems. By the end of the course, students should be able to form and support their opinions with ease.

English Dialects around the World

開講時期：春学期授業/Spring | 単位数：2 単位

曜日・時限：火 5/Tue.5 | キャンパス：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya

毎年・隔年： | 科目主催学部：Global and Interdisciplinary Studies

備考：

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

No language has ever been so extensively used on Earth as English is today. However, the language, spoken by well over 400 million people as a mother tongue, has developed a wide range of variations due to regional and social factors. This course aims to survey the phonetic, lexical and syntactic features of some varieties of standard English in the UK, North America and Australasia, with frequent reference to their historical and cultural backgrounds. Special attention is paid to Australian and NZ English, considering the increased significance of the southern hemisphere countries in business and education. It is often predicted that L2 speakers of English in Asia alone will likely outnumber monolingual English speakers of the Inner Circle within this century. Mention is made of Singapore English as an example of New Englishes.

【到達目標】

By the end of the course, students will:

- (1) better understand the richness and diversity of the English language,
- (2) get familiar with the IPA vowel and consonant charts,
- (3) be able to identify major English accents in the world, and
- (4) become more familiar with the lexical/syntactic features of Canadian, Australian and NZ English in particular.

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

This course provides students with a basic knowledge of sociolinguistics, the study of language in relation to society. The first part of the course is concerned with how individual language use is correlated with a variety of social variables, such as gender, age, class and ethnicity, by outlining a number of previous studies conducted in the English-speaking world. Particular reference is made to the classic research of William Labov, one of the founding figures of quantitative sociolinguistics.

Later lectures focus on how and where a language, dialect or accent is socially placed and ranked within a community, including multi-lingual/dialectal countries such as Singapore. Students who are or are becoming bilingual will find the discussion on bilingualism especially interesting when they learn that its implications not merely vary from one society to another, but have been significantly changing recently. Another major topic is language attitudes. While the attitudes are based on socio-psychological considerations, rather than on purely linguistic grounds, they often influence a listener's impression of a person speaking a particular language or with a particular accent.

【到達目標】

By the end of the course, students will:

- (1) understand key terminology, concepts and theories in sociolinguistics,
- (2) have an awareness of ongoing language changes in society, and
- (3) become familiar with interpreting quantitative/qualitative data for sociolinguistic analysis.

備考：

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

Race, class, gender and sexuality are important aspects of social life that affect us in distinct as well as interrelated ways. In this course, students will be introduced to key concepts, theories and research to explore how race, class, gender and sexuality shape identities and experiences, create differences among people as individuals and groups, and constitute inequalities. Since the field has been developed in the United States, much of the class material will be from research conducted in the United States. At the same time, as much as possible, research from other countries, including Japan, will also be drawn on.

【到達目標】

Through lectures, discussion and written assignments, students will learn concepts and theories to analyze how race, class, gender and sexuality affect individuals and society. They will learn to apply these analytical tools and knowledge to form critical opinions on current issues related to various bases of inequalities. Students will acquire skills in critical thinking, analysis and writing that can be applied in other academic fields as well as future careers.

Race, Class and Gender II: Global Inequalities

 備考：

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

This class builds on what students have learned in Race, Class and Gender I to look at how inequalities are inter-connected through examining various global issues. Students will learn to analyze how race, class, gender, and sexuality are connected to each other as intersecting inequalities in a society and the world, and on that basis, consider the possibility of an equal but diverse world.

【到達目標】

A major goal is to develop students' sensitivity towards issues of inequality and skills in social analysis and critical thinking. By exploring issues related to family, employment, violence, prostitution, and human and sex trafficking, in an international and global context, students will learn to see how any global issue is multidimensional, and specifically, how inequalities are complex and constituted by the interconnection of race, class, gender, sexuality, and other bases of inequality.

Philosophy of the Public Sphere

石田 安実

開講時期：秋学期授業/Fall | 単位数：2 単位

曜日・時限：水 2/Wed.2 | キャンパス：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya

毎年・隔年： | 科目主催学部：Intercultural Communication

備考：

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

People often think that “philosophy” is quite an old subject – and very difficult, unfortunately. It is true that philosophical questions have been discussed in rather complicated and often confusing manners since many years ago, for example, by Socrates and Aristotle in the ancient Greek period. But many philosophers believe that these questions are tightly related to our everyday life. We are surrounded by many philosophical issues, though we may not always be aware of their philosophical significance; philosophical issues are basically our everyday issues. But how are they related to our life?

In this course, you will discuss various philosophical topics, their in-depth meanings, and their philosophical significance, trying to find their very relevance to your life. That may help you see your surroundings, your society and the world in quite exciting and interesting ways. Out of many philosophical topics found in our daily life, we will discuss about 13 topics in class.

【到達目標】

This course provides a broad introduction to philosophical ways of thinking. The course is open to students from any disciplines, who hope to:

- (1) understand some of the most fundamental philosophical topics (which include freedom, truth, and moral rightness / wrongness),
- (2) be able to explain these issues in very simple everyday terms, and
- (3) apply philosophical ways of thinking (reasoning) on every-day issues.

【この授業を履修することで学部等のディプロマポリシーに示されたどの能力を習得することができるか（該当授業科目と学位授与方針に明示された学習成果との関連）】

【授業の進め方と方法】

・ Basic course requirements:

*No previous philosophy courses required.

*Intellectual curiosity; Keen eyes on everyday-life facts and happenings;

*Respectful attitude of others' opinions (including those which you will find in readings and in the class).

・ On enrollment:

The student enrollment is limited to 22. Students will be admitted on a first-come and first-served basis. So, if you wish to take this course, you need to take an immediate action and do the following:

(1) You have to send me an e-mail (to the address below) expressing your intention to enroll:

yasushi.ishida.85@hosei.ac.jp

(2) When you are accepted to the class, you will receive a note (e-mail) of confirmation. If you are not accepted, you will be put on the waiting list in the order of application.

(3) Those who have received my note of confirmation can go through a procedure to register for the course.

You will be accepted on a first-come and first-served basis. Equally importantly, I urge you to attend the first and/or second meeting. In case you fail to attend both of them, that will affect your final grade (10%); if you have legitimate or good reason to miss the meetings, do not fail to contact me by e-mail.

・ Organization of the class:

Each class will consist of 100-minutes of lecture and discussion. The class will be conducted in English.

I appreciate interaction and exchange with you in class. So, please make best efforts to express your ideas, even if you find it very difficult to do so. I would not penalize you for making mistakes; you ARE entitled to make mistakes in class!

・ On your final project:

You are expected to submit a short paper of 700 to 1000 words at the end of the semester. I will give you a Guideline before the end of semester.

10	Knowledge vs. Beliefs	What do we know?: How do we know it is true?
11	Truth, Reality	What is really true?: Truth, Reality, Dream
12	Robots and Humans (Mind)	Is the Mind just the Brain? (Your "essay plan" must be submitted by the 12th meeting)
13	Language	What does it do?: What's its role?
14	Wrap-up	Concluding remarks (Your "essay plan" will be returned)

【授業時間外の学習（準備学習・復習・宿題等）】

- ・ I recommend that you review what you have learned in each meeting.
- ・ You will have to submit your paper topic ("essay plan") by the 12th class meeting (see the schedule below).

【テキスト（教科書）】

- ・ There will be no specific textbooks assigned.
- ・ Occasionally, reading materials may be assigned and handouts will be given in class.

【参考書】

No specific books assigned. But looking into any (large size) philosophy dictionaries will be of great help.

【成績評価の方法と基準】

Basically I will assess your grade based on the way you participate in the class and your final project.

Attitude/ Participation: 40% of course grade

Final Project (a paper): 60% of course grade

* Attitude/ Participation:

I appreciate your participation in class, and would like to know your ideas and opinions. I will consider your participation as part of your grade.

You are not allowed to use cell-phones in class. If you get a warning twice, that will affect your grade.

* Final Project:

At the end of the semester, you will write a paper (of 700 to 1000 words) on the topic that you choose, explaining your ideas or insights. Your topic should be related to the issues studied or discussed in class.

Near the end of the semester, you will have to submit your "essay plan," which should include the title (topic) of your paper and your (tentative) conclusion described in a short paragraph. You will receive my comments on your paper plan, and then your plan should be reorganized or revised accordingly.

In writing your paper, you can expand your ideas by citing or referring to books and other readings, including materials from websites. In that case, you must explicitly show the sources or reference either in the footnotes or endnotes. (Do NOT cite or refer to Wikipedia in your paper. If you do so, you will receive a "D" grade.)

If you copy sentences from any existing documents (again, including any writings from websites) without doing so, you will receive a "D" grade. It is vital that you present your own view or insights, not the same ideas as described or explained in published or preexisting documents or on websites.

You have to submit your paper (essay) on the web system (Class Support System, 授業支援システム). The due date will be announced near the end of the semester.

【学生の意見等からの気づき】

In previous semesters, I received several comments from students saying that "discussing in class was very hard at the beginning, but it helped me improve my capacity to speak in English and express myself logically. Eventually, I found it quite meaningful."

【その他の重要事項】

・ No cell-phones are allowed to use in class.

・ I urge you to attend the first and/or second meeting. In case you fail to attend both of them, that will affect your final grade (10%); if you have legitimate or good reason to miss the meetings, do not fail to contact me by e-mail.

・ As I appreciate interaction and exchange with you in class, I would like to know what you think and have your feedback. So, I strongly advise that you attend all the classes and participate in the discussions.

・ Philosophy is different from a philosophy. “Philosophy” is the discipline that comprises logic, metaphysics, ethics, epistemology, etc.; on the other hand, “a philosophy” is a system of beliefs, concepts, or attitude of an individual or a group. Everyone has a philosophy of some sort, even if he/she has never read a philosophy book. An individual's philosophy can be a subject for examination and discussion in philosophy class.

【Outline and objectives】

People often think that “philosophy” is quite an old subject – and very difficult, unfortunately. It is true that philosophical questions have been discussed in rather complicated and often confusing manners since many years ago, for example, by Socrates and Aristotle in the ancient Greek period. Students are expected to visit the relevant H'etudes site and get as much information as needed.

Viney, Brigit (2008). The History of the English Language. Oxford: Oxford University Press.

【参考書】

Suggested reading materials to enhance students' comprehension will be mentioned through H'etudes in due course. However, the following are worth reading prior to the opening of the course:

- Algeo, John (2010). The Origins and Development of the English Language. Sixth edition. Boston: Wadsworth. [Based on the original work of Thomas Pyles. Careful about special phonetic notations used.]
- Barber, Charles, Joan C. Beal, and Philip A. Shaw (2009). The English Language: A Historical Introduction. Second edition. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press. [Offers clear explanations of linguistic ideas.]
- Bradley, Henry (1970). The Making of English. Tokyo: Seibido. [A bit out of date, but still a good introduction. Japanese translation available from Iwanami.]
- Schmitt, Norbert and Richard Marsden (2009). Why Is English Like That? Historical Answers to Hard ELT Questions. Ann Arbor: The University of Michigan Press. [A recent book; easy to read; written for English language teachers.]

【成績評価の方法と基準】

- Please note that attendance is taken for granted. However, if you miss a class, the following rule is applied: 1 demerit for each class missed. 3 demerits = -10% on your grade (roughly one letter grade). 5 demerits = failure for the course.
- Final exam: 50%.
- Project: 30%
- Class participation: 20%.

【学生の意見等からの気づき】

Overall, the instructor gets favourable comments from the students.

【学生が準備すべき機器他】

Using a personal computer is recommended, which enables you to get accustomed to make use of phonetic fonts as well as tree-drawing applications. Also, there are many interesting sites on the web which the instructor recommends you to visit.

【その他の重要事項】

In terms of its content, this course is the same as「英語圏の文化 VIII（英語の歴史）」taught in Japanese. Therefore, if you have obtained credits taking that course, you cannot obtain credits by taking this course.

This course is just a half-year (semestral) course about the history of the English language. Students are highly encouraged to study various matters not treated in class sessions.

Also, as is shown in Goals above, always having a strong interest in English per se is important. So, please study English hard and try to develop a 'feel' for the language.

【カリキュラム上の位置づけ】

Open for the third- and fourth-year FIC students (many of them probably being the SA-English students). Also open for non-FIC students. Appropriate for those who have strong interest in the English language and historical linguistics.

【Outline and objectives】

Towards the end of this course, students will be able:

1. to study the history of the English language, which, good or bad, has become an 'international language' in our modern world; and
2. to develop a general interest in the language itself through doing a lot of reading.

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

The Culture, Language, and Thought of the English-Speaking World is the product of many historical interactions between a variety of peoples with different ways of thinking and living in the world. To understand many aspects of the societies in the modern English-Speaking World, one must first recognize the historical forces that shaped them and brought them about.

【到達目標】

The primary goal of this course is to give students the basic knowledge necessary to understand: 1) how societies and cultures change in general and 2) how the cultures of the English-Speaking World developed their unique forms. Using the framework of cultural change, we will examine the formation of “Western” religious and political institutions that developed before 1500 CE in order to better appreciate the roots of “Western” social, political, and economic thought. Building on this foundation, the evolution of modern social systems and political-economic thought that occurred in the English-Speaking World after 1500 CE will be discussed.

【授業の進め方と方法】

The course will start out by outlining the forces behind cultural change. This will be followed by a series of lectures discussing the development of European political and religious institutions following the Ancient Greco-Roman era. We will then attempt to analyze Britain's rather unique political & economic institutions at the beginning of the modern era as a product of cultural change. Building on this foundation, the cultural changes, i.e., the changes in thought, caused by the Protestant Reformation and Enlightenment Philosophy will be examined and their impact on the development of British and American Political-Economic Systems through the 19th and 20th Centuries will be discussed.

Admittedly, this is not an easy course with all those unfamiliar terms and concepts. So, it is strongly recommended to read the relevant materials suggested in お知らせ posted immediately after each class session by the instructor. 本授業の準備学習・復習時間は各2時間を標準とします。

【テキスト（教科書）】

There are no particular textbooks for this course.

【参考書】

Suggested reading materials to enhance students' comprehension will be mentioned through H'etudes in due course. However, the following (all written in Japanese) are recommendable prior to the opening of the course:

- 加島祥造 (1976). 『英語の辞書の話』. 東京：講談社 [のちに講談社学術文庫に収載.]
- 中島文雄 (1991). 『英語学とは何か』. 東京：講談社 [講談社学術文庫].

【成績評価の方法と基準】

- Please note that attendance is taken for granted. However, if you miss a class, the following rule is applied: 1 demerit for each class missed. 3 demerits = -10% on your grade (roughly one letter grade). 5 demerits = failure for the course.
- Final exam: 50%.
- Project: 30%.
- Class participation: 20%.

【学生の意見等からの気づき】

n/a

【学生が準備すべき機器他】

Personal computers, good English dictionaries, etc.

【その他の重要事項】

This is just a half-year (semestral) course about the structural aspects of modern English, which is in many ways similar to 'Intro to English Linguistics' you see in English major's curriculum; only, the speed is much faster! Therefore, the contents covered should be rather selective in nature. Students are highly encouraged to study various matters not treated in class sessions.

Also, as is shown in Goals above, always having a strong interest in English per se is important. So, please study English hard and try to develop a 'feel' for the language.

【カリキュラム上の位置づけ】

Open for the third- and fourth-year FIC students (many of them probably being the SA-English students). Also open for non-FIC students. Appropriate for those who have strong interest in the English language and/or language studies in general.

【Outline and objectives】

The aim of this course is to consider structural aspects of the English language, which has become the de facto 'global' language. Towards the end of this course, students will be able to attain the following goals indicated below.

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

Sociology of Gender and Families

The family is one of the most important social institutions that everyone in society is familiar with. Because of the familiarity, however, we often lack critical perspectives on the issues pertaining to the family. We will challenge typically taken-for-granted notions of the family by considering it from a sociological point of view. We will do so by highlighting the ways in which gender plays a critical role in shaping our experiences, identity, as well as relationship to others.

【到達目標】

While focusing on families in contemporary Japan, this course will take a historical and comparative perspective to highlight diversity and transformation of families, both within and outside Japan. By investigating both public policies and private dynamics, we aim to deepen our understanding of, and gain critical perspectives on the family.

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

1. identify and critically engage with social issues pertaining to the family and gender;
2. understand the connection between individual experiences in family and broader socio-historical contexts; and
3. discuss issues surrounding the family and gender with a comparative perspective.

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

This course provides an introduction to the history of East Asian international relations, helping students to understand it in a wider geo-historical context. First, we examine the pre-modern developments of loose regional relations that evolved as part of the Chinese Ming dynasty tributary system and subsequent isolationist policies of each state that continued until the mid-nineteenth century. Then, we focus on modern developments, during which the region was incorporated into the European international order of Westphalian states to fight modern wars. Finally, based on these historical discussions, we investigate contemporary political, economic, and social challenges in East Asia.

【到達目標】

By the end of the course, the students will be able to:

- 1) Understand the history in East Asia in relation to historical transformations of the world as a whole.
- 2) Critically assess the historical foundations of contemporary challenges to East Asian international relations.
- 3) Develop skills to critically analyze contemporary issues in world politics through key concepts and theories.

Strategies for Intercultural Communication

ストックウェル・エスター

開講時期：春学期授業/Spring | 単位数：2 単位

曜日・時限：TBA | キャンパス：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya

毎年・隔年： | 科目主催学部：Sustainability Studies

備考：

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

Intercultural Communication is a fundamental field of study in today's globalized world. This course will deal two main approaches to intercultural communication, Culture-General Approach and Culture-Specific Approach. In the Culture-General Approach the focus is on building a general understanding about the importance of culture to human existence and in examining ways to either neutralize the impact of culture so that it does not get in the way of communication or to communicate within culturally diverse groups without stereotyping or discriminating. In the Culture-Specific Approach, individuals usually try to learn as much as possible about a particular culture or group of cultures often by comparing them to their own cultural background or a particular nation's predominant culture so that they can avoid communication challenges. Combining these two approaches in this course prepares students to approach intercultural encounters with a set of practical principles and behaviors so students as intercultural encounters become skill-building opportunities.

【到達目標】

This course aims to provide students with advanced and integrated knowledge of intercultural communication theories and skills for research and professional practice. The course will analyze critically the key role that communication plays in developing intercultural relations and in managing intercultural conflict, using various case studies from different cultures/countries. In addition, students will be able to evaluate how media and culture intersect as contested zones to influence cultural change. These contents will provide opportunities for students to become aware of diversity of cultures, become familiar with cultural variations, and to develop skills in monitoring personal behavior and responding non-judgmentally to the unexpected behaviors encountered in diverse educational and workplace situations. After successfully completing this course, students should be able to engage sensitively and confidently with individuals, groups, and communities in local, national and international communication environments.

In addition, each class will include interactive workshop activities focusing on group-based discussion, creating cultural resources including video clips and WebQuest lists, and problem solving tasks. In order to develop knowledge and skills, students will be expected to participate in interactive discussions and activities and to critically engage with the weekly reading materials.

Business Communication

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

Effective communication is critical to our successful life and careers. But the question is “How can we become an effective communicator?” In this course, we will be aiming to be effective communicators by learning the following three topics:

(1) Effective communication with a focus on others

When we want to be a good communicator, learning how to speak and write clearly is not enough; it is important for us to improve our ability to connect with others. The ability to truly connect with others is the key to building good relationships and improving our communication. In this course, we will learn how to communicate effectively by focusing, not on our own perspective, but on the perspective of others and their interests.

(2) Understand cultural differences

Understanding cultural differences of people we communicate with is also very important for effective business communication. In this course, we will review a model called “The Culture Map” and decode how cultural differences impact international business communication.

(3) Understand unconscious bias

In this course, we also learn about unconscious bias. Unconscious bias refers to a bias that we are unaware of, and which happens outside of our control. Unconscious bias happens by our brains making quick judgments and assessments of people and situations without us realizing. Our biases are influenced by our background, cultural environment and personal experiences. Increasing numbers of global companies are introducing in-company education programs on unconscious bias because it could be a potential obstacle for their business unless they effectively address it. In this course, we have a basic understanding about unconscious bias and learn how to deal with it.

【到達目標】

We aim at achieving the following goals:

(1) Learn basic methodologies for effective business communication with a focus on others

(2) Understand cultural differences in communication

(3) Have basic understanding about unconscious bias and how to cope with it.

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

This course focuses on the understanding of environment and society as an integrated system. The course is based on the theory of social-ecological systems, and with this theoretical underpinning, we will learn about different aspects of environment and society interactions. We will particularly focus on the role of human agency and its present and possible future roles for the state of the earth.

The course is roughly divided into two parts: (1) problems associated with the environment and society and (2) solutions toward more sustainable human-environment relationships.

【到達目標】

At the end of the course, students will develop a good understanding of the main arguments related to environment and society relations from different case studies. Students will also have some opportunities for field visit and learn from stakeholders.

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

This course aims to understand globalization as the most significant phenomenon of our era. The biggest controversy of the topic is if globalization is a good thing or a bad thing. In addition, the fact that it is a multi-dimensional phenomenon has made this question particularly difficult. Throughout the course, we critically examine what globalization is. After having a few lectures on definition and history of globalization, students are divided into five groups according to their interest (economy, politics, culture, ideology, and ecology), and conduct research on the Tokyo Olympic Games 2020. Each group delivers a short mock lecture with the instructor's supplementary lecture. Finally, we together discuss if globalization is good or bad.

【到達目標】

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- 1) Understand the basic history and theory of globalization.
- 2) Display a familiarity with the arguments and ideas of key concepts and thinkers introduced in the class.
- 3) Apply a range of arguments and concepts discussed in class to reflect on contemporary issues of globalization.

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

This course explores the interactions between geography and politics to understand contemporary international order and conflicts. It is not only since the rise of the modern nation-state that questions of geography have occupied people's minds, as territorial disputes often led to conflicts. Surprisingly, however, while the relationship between politics and geography is central to intellectual endeavours, it plays only a minor role in contemporary political thought. Aiming to conceive of inclusive and sustainable world order, and reconsider geography for the study of politics, this course critically examines the relation of geography and politics. The course first introduces the history of political geography and geopolitics before applying it on contemporary geopolitical case studies.

【到達目標】

By the end of the course, students will be able to:

- 1) Demonstrate familiarity with key concepts and theories of political geography.
- 2) Understand how geography has shaped politics, forming and transforming national identities.
- 3) Use concepts and perspectives of political geography to critically reflect on contemporary international relations issues.

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

Without cultural knowledge, language users may not fully understand the meaning of a message. Even with perfect grammar, we could completely offend our conversational partners without using language in a culturally suitable manner. In this course, we will take a close look at the face-saving strategies used in world languages. We will also consider and discuss diverse cultural values and orientations that are closely connected to verbal and non-verbal behavior. This enhanced linguistic and cultural awareness will help you become a more tactful and respectful user of your first and second languages and prepare you for effective intercultural communication.

【到達目標】

In this course, you will become able to 1) cultivate your understanding of the relationship between language form, meaning, and context, 2) become familiar with the notions of face and politeness, 3) collect and analyze authentic language samples, 3) understand cultural values and orientations behind language use in world languages. The course will also provide an opportunity for you to reflect on intercultural misunderstandings and respectful communication strategies with which to relate to others.

Message to the course participants:

This is a relatively new course that opened in the spring of 2019. We had fascinating discussion and both students and I learned a great deal! This course is conducted in English. Students must be competent speakers of English (native or proficient with TOEFL ® iBT 61+ or equivalent). If your scores are TOEFL ® iBT 61 - 100, you can take this course but be ready to make a little more thorough preparation each week.

If you are interested in language teaching, you're an excellent fit for this class. If you are more of a learner who likes the fun of language and art, you are also welcome. I expect international and Japanese students of all majors to work collaboratively despite their different cultural and linguistic backgrounds. Come with an open mind and learn from each other!

In the first part, students will learn about the basic features of ecosystem and biodiversity, that is to say, natural world that surrounds us and provides us with various essential resources. The second part will focus on environmental and social problems related to agriculture (food production) and use of other natural resources in order to explore our personal involvement in these issues. The course will be taught entirely in English, and, although the course material will be presented in a series of lectures, videos, group activities, and discussions will also be utilized in combination when appropriate.

It has been a challenge to more actively involve students in the learning process. However, group activities appear to be effective in addressing such an issue, and additional efforts to provide such opportunities will be made.

【Outline and objectives】

The UN 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, or Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) have come to be recognized as common tasks for the human society, which is, in a way, a manifestation of the severity of various problems we as a species are faced with. In light of this current situation, this course focuses on the concept of "sustainability" so as to provide students with an opportunity to learn about basic scientific aspects of environmental problems and also to learn about relevant social issues in an attempt to provide a view from a wider perspective.

【授業の概要と目的（何を学ぶか）】

Reading and listening to other students' translations and presentations throughout the course may also lead to even greater insight. Translation is not simply a matter of changing one language into another. It requires an awareness of the differences between countries in terms of culture, history, people, religion, and so on. When translating one's first language into another language, an unexpected rediscovery of one's mother tongue often accompanies it.

In this course, you will translate reading material written in your first language into English and discuss what you find difficult or interesting about the process.

【到達目標】

Students will be able to—(1)understand many aspects of the differences between languages,(2)be able to explain in what way certain languages differ from/ are similar to others,(3)gain an appreciation of how difficult or easy it is to translate from one particular language into another,(4)and to widen your knowledge of other languages and cultures, as well as of your own.

【Outline and objectives】

Reading and listening to other students' translations and presentations throughout the course may also lead to even greater insight. Translation is not simply a matter of changing one language into another. It requires an awareness of the differences between countries in terms of culture, history, people, religion, and so on. When translating one's first language into another language, an unexpected rediscovery of one's mother tongue often accompanies it.

In this course, you will translate reading material written in your first language into English and discuss what you find difficult or interesting about the process.

回	テーマ	内容
Week 1	Orientation	Outline of what you learn throughout the course is briefly explained. Also self-introduction by the instructor and each participant is planned. You should introduce yourself by saying such as (1) the town where I was born, (2) why I decided to study in Japan and at Hosei Univ., (3) what I am interested in doing and achieving during study abroad.
Week 2	Higher Education and Career Development	By understanding the current situation of increasing youth unemployment and non-regular employment in Japan, you should learn how important it is to make a proper job selection and its influence on your career formation.

Week 3	Telling a Life Story to Know Yourself	Understanding about yourself better is the first step that you should take to find a job that suits you and develop your career later on. So let's learn what a life story telling is, how it works to know you better and experience it with the other class members.	Week 11	Japanese MSC (Medium to Small Sized Companies) as Your Job Targets	The Japanese economy has been supported by and dependent on a large number of MSC (medium to small sized companies). In this respect you should know more about them and consider them as potential candidates of your job hunting in the future.
Week 4	Presentation of Your Life Story	This is the time for you to talk about a story highlighting a memorable moment to review how your personality, interests, sense of values, abilities and life style have been influenced by it and let others get to know you better.	Week 12	How Japanese Company Recruits and Fosters Young Employees	Even if you could successfully get a job offer, you would probably be not so confident in your ability to cope with the job requirements.
