【Outline and objectives】

This course, the lowest-level communication course in the ERP, aims to support and strengthen students' existing speaking and listening skills, by building a solid foundation of English vocabulary and structures to allow simple communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the textbook's wide range of relevant topics and themes focused on society and culture as a springboard for planning, discussion, presentation and simple debate activities, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and confidence. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

【Goal】

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- make basic presentations (with PowerPoint, etc.) in English, in pairs, groups and individually
- build ability to listen to prepared speeches and simple multi-party interactions
- engage in and lead simple discussions on a range of topics
- improve pronunciation to maintain a clear diction understandable by native speakers
- manage common situations when communicating in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing simple strategies for explaining, checking and confirming
- express opinions supported by simple reasoning
- work together with other students in simple collaborative projects

Jonathan Docherty is from Glasgow in Scotland. He is a native speaker of British English. Jonathan has been involved in the teaching English as a foreign language industry since 2004. He taught across Europe for two years before moving to Tokyo, Japan in 2008. He has experience teaching a range of age groups and levels to Japanese students in the Kanto area and Aichi too. He aims to deliver interesting, communicative, fun student centred lessons through a blend of task based pair work and group work activities. He believes teaching English to be a challenging and deeply rewarding career. Punctual, patient and positive by nature, he hopes the students at Hosei University enjoy learning English.

ERP CE1 (Ichigaya): Writing & Discussion: Intermediate I

Samuel Harper

Credit(s) : 1 | Semester : 春学期授業/Spring | Year : 1~4

Day/Period : 火 2/Tue.2

その他属性 : 〈実〉

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the lowest-level writing course in the ERP, aims to support and strengthen students' existing writing and discussion skills, by building a solid foundation of English vocabulary and grammar structures to allow simple written and oral communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the first three chapters in the textbook firstly to confirm students' understanding of and ability to write basic English paragraphs, secondly to analyze and practice listing-order ("first ... second ..." etc.) paragraphs, and thirdly to build students' ability to write written instructions, requests and so on. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and confidence. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- compose complex, multi-clause English sentences and become familiar with standard conjunctions
- write coherent, logical English extended paragraphs on a range of topics (300 words in length)
- build general vocabulary related to the reading, writing and discussion topics
- improve reading skills (skimming, scanning, comprehension) using short, level-appropriate articles
- engage in and lead simple discussions on a range of topics
- manage common written communication tasks (e.g. emails) in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing simple strategies for explaining, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by simple reasoning
- work together with other students in simple collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the lowest-level writing course in the ERP, aims to support and strengthen students' existing writing and discussion skills, by building a solid foundation of English vocabulary and grammar structures to allow simple written and oral communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the first three chapters in the textbook firstly to confirm students' understanding of and ability to write basic English paragraphs, secondly to analyze and practice listing-order ("first ... second ..." etc.) paragraphs, and thirdly to build students' ability to write written instructions, requests and so on. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and confidence. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- compose complex, multi-clause English sentences and become familiar with standard conjunctions
- write coherent, logical English extended paragraphs on a range of topics (300 words in length)
- build general vocabulary related to the reading, writing and discussion topics
- improve reading skills (skimming, scanning, comprehension) using short, level-appropriate articles
- engage in and lead simple discussions on a range of topics
- manage common written communication tasks (e.g. emails) in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing simple strategies for explaining, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by simple reasoning
- work together with other students in simple collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the mid-level writing course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' English writing and discussion skills, by helping them to write different kinds of paragraphs and finally to write simple essays consisting of a clear introduction, body, conclusion structure. It uses the first three chapters of the textbook to introduce various kinds of English paragraph structure and to reinforce understanding of and the ability to produce unified and coherent writing. The course then turns to chapter nine of the book to look at how to apply this knowledge and skill to write a basic essay. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- compose complex, multi-clause English sentences and expand use of more sophisticated conjunctions
- write logical English paragraphs (200-300w) and short essays (500w) on a range of academic and general topics
- expand specific vocabulary related to the reading, writing and discussion topics
- build understanding of the difference between spoken and written English
- improve reading skills (summarizing, note-taking) using longer, level-appropriate academic articles
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a wide range of topics related to their fields of study
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming
- express opinions supported by logical reasoning and convincing evidence
- work together with other students in collaborative projects

Credit(s) : 1 | Semester : 春学期授業/Spring | Year : 1~4

Day/Period : 木 4/Thu.4

その他属性 : 〈実〉

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the mid-level writing course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' English writing and discussion skills, by helping them to write different kinds of paragraphs and finally to write simple essays consisting of a clear introduction, body, conclusion structure. It uses the first three chapters of the textbook to introduce various kinds of English paragraph structure and to reinforce understanding of and the ability to produce unified and coherent writing. The course then turns to chapter nine of the book to look at how to apply this knowledge and skill to write a basic essay. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- compose complex, multi-clause English sentences and expand use of more sophisticated conjunctions
- write logical English paragraphs (200-300w) and short essays (500w) on a range of academic and general topics
- expand specific vocabulary related to the reading, writing and discussion topics
- build understanding of the difference between spoken and written English
- improve reading skills (summarizing, note-taking) using longer, level-appropriate academic articles
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a wide range of topics related to their fields of study
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming
- express opinions supported by logical reasoning and convincing evidence
- work together with other students in collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the highest-level writing course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' already significant English writing and discussion skills, by expanding their ability to write long paragraphs into essays consisting of a clear introduction, body, conclusion structure. It uses the first four chapters of the textbook to firstly review English paragraph structure, secondly to reinforce understanding of and ability to produce unified and coherent writing, thirdly to utilize and cite outside resources (references), and fourthly to apply this knowledge and skill to write a basic essay. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- write sophisticated, referenced, logical English essays (750w) on a range of academic and general topics
- be sensitive to the importance of citation and reference in academic writing and avoid plagiarism
- learn effective techniques for quoting, paraphrasing, summarizing, etc. the work of others
- deepen vocabulary related to target topics through in-class and further reading / research
- develop critical reading skills (identifying opinions and bias) using extended level-appropriate academic articles
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a wide range of topics related to their fields of study
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by logical reasoning and convincing evidence
- work together with other students in collaborative projects

【Outline and objectives】

This course, the lowest level communication course in the ERP, aims to support and strengthen students' existing speaking and listening skills, by building a solid foundation of English vocabulary and structures to allow simple communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the textbook's wide range of relevant topics and themes focused on society and culture as a springboard for planning, discussion, presentation and simple debate activities, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and confidence. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

【Goal】

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- make basic presentations in English, in pairs, groups and individually
- build ability to listen to prepared speeches and simple multi-party interactions
- engage in and lead simple discussions on a range of topics
- improve pronunciation to maintain a clear diction understandable by native speakers
- manage common situations when communicating in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing simple strategies for explaining, checking and confirming
- express opinions supported by simple reasoning
- work together with other students in simple collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the lowest level writing course in the ERP, aims to support and strengthen students' existing writing and discussion skills, by building a solid foundation of English vocabulary and grammar structures to allow simple written and oral communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the final three chapters in the textbook firstly to analyze and practice space-order ("on the left ... behind that") descriptive paragraphs, secondly to recognize and practice writing well-reasoned paragraphs supported by examples, and thirdly to build students' ability to write simple logical opinions in longer paragraphs. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and confidence. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- compose complex, multi-clause English sentences and become familiar with standard conjunctions
- write coherent, logical English extended paragraphs on a range of topics (300 words in length)
- build general vocabulary related to the reading, writing and discussion topics
- improve reading skills (skimming, scanning, comprehension) using short, level-appropriate articles
- engage in and lead simple discussions on a range of topics
- manage common written communication tasks (e.g. emails) in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing simple strategies for explaining, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by simple reasoning
- work together with other students in simple collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the mid-level communication course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' speaking and listening skills, by expanding their active repertoire of English vocabulary and structures to allow communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the textbook's wide range of topics and themes on society and culture as a springboard for planning, discussion, meeting simulation, presentation and debate activities, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- make effective presentations in English on academic and other topics, in pairs, groups and individually
- expand ability to listen to prepared speeches and multi-party interactions
- engage in and facilitate discussions on a wide range of topics related to their fields of study
- improve pronunciation to maintain a clear diction understandable by native and non-native speakers
- manage common situations when communicating in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming
- express opinions supported by logical reasoning and convincing evidence, and considering multiple points of view
- build analysis and decision-making skills through group discussion activities
- work together with other students in collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the mid-level writing course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' English writing and discussion skills, by helping them to write different kinds of paragraphs and finally to write simple essays consisting of a clear introduction, body, conclusion structure. It uses chapters five, six and seven of the textbook to introduce various kinds of English paragraph structure, to reinforce understanding of and the ability to produce unified and coherent writing. The course then turns to chapter ten of the book to look at how to apply this knowledge and skill to write a basic essay. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- compose complex, multi-clause English sentences and expand use of more sophisticated conjunctions
- write logical English paragraphs (200-300w) and short essays (500w) on a range of academic and general topics
- expand specific vocabulary related to the reading, writing and discussion topics
- build understanding of the difference between spoken and written English
- improve reading skills (summarizing, note-taking) using longer, level-appropriate academic articles
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a wide range of topics related to their fields of study
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming

【Outline and objectives】

This course, the highest-level communication course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' already significant speaking and listening skills, by expanding their active repertoire of English vocabulary and structures to allow complex communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the textbook's wide range of topics and themes on society and culture as a springboard for planning, discussion, meeting simulation, presentation and debate activities, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

【Goal】

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- make sophisticated academic presentations in English on academic and other topics, in pairs, groups and individually
- expand ability to listen to academic presentations and complex multi-party interactions
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a relatively simple academic topics related to their fields of study
- manage common situations when communicating in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by logical reasoning and convincing evidence, backed by data and evidence
- expand analysis and research skills by using data to support discussions and presentations in class
- work together with other students in collaborative projects

【Outline and objectives】

This course, the highest level writing course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' already significant English writing and discussion skills, by expanding their ability to write long paragraphs into essays consisting of a clear introduction, body, conclusion structure. It uses the second four chapters of the textbook to analyze and practice writing four different essay types: Process Essays, Cause / Effect Essays, Comparison / Contrast Essays, and finally Argumentative Essays. Through these units various writing skills are explored including organization, thesis statements, collocations, antonyms, summarizing, and so on. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

【Goal】

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- write sophisticated, referenced, logical English essays (750w) on a range of academic and general topics
- be sensitive to the importance of citation and reference in academic writing and avoid plagiarism
- learn effective techniques for quoting, paraphrasing, summarizing, etc. the work of others
- deepen vocabulary related to target topics through in-class and further reading / research
- develop critical reading skills (identifying opinions and bias) using extended level-appropriate academic articles
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a wide range of topics related to their fields of study
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by logical reasoning and convincing evidence

【Outline and objectives】

This course, the lowest-level communication course in the ERP, aims to support and strengthen students' existing speaking and listening skills, by building a solid foundation of English vocabulary and structures to allow simple communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the textbook's wide range of relevant topics and themes focused on society and culture as a springboard for planning, discussion, presentation and simple debate activities, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and confidence. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

【Goal】

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- make basic presentations (with PowerPoint, etc.) in English, in pairs, groups and individually
- build ability to listen to prepared speeches and simple multi-party interactions
- engage in and lead simple discussions on a range of topics
- improve pronunciation to maintain a clear diction understandable by native speakers
- manage common situations when communicating in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing simple strategies for explaining, checking and confirming
- express opinions supported by simple reasoning
- work together with other students in simple collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the lowest-level writing course in the ERP, aims to support and strengthen students' existing writing and discussion skills, by building a solid foundation of English vocabulary and grammar structures to allow simple written and oral communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the first three chapters in the textbook firstly to confirm students' understanding of and ability to write basic English paragraphs, secondly to analyze and practice listing-order ("first ... second ..." etc.) paragraphs, and thirdly to build students' ability to write written instructions, requests and so on. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and confidence. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- compose complex, multi-clause English sentences and become familiar with standard conjunctions
- write coherent, logical English extended paragraphs on a range of topics (300 words in length)
- build general vocabulary related to the reading, writing and discussion topics
- improve reading skills (skimming, scanning, comprehension) using short, level-appropriate articles
- engage in and lead simple discussions on a range of topics
- manage common written communication tasks (e.g. emails in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad)
- communicate actively by employing simple strategies for explaining, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by simple reasoning
- work together with other students in simple collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the mid-level communication course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' speaking and listening skills, by expanding their active repertoire of English vocabulary and structures to allow communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the textbook's wide range of topics and themes on society and culture as a springboard for planning, discussion, meeting simulation, presentation and debate activities, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- make presentations in English (with PowerPoint, etc.) on academic and other topics, in pairs, groups and individually
- expand ability to listen to prepared speeches and multi-party interactions
- engage in and facilitate discussions on a wide range of topics related to their fields of study
- manage common situations when communicating in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming
- express opinions supported by logical reasoning and convincing evidence, and considering multiple points of view
- build analysis and decision-making skills through group discussion activities
- work together with other students in collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the mid-level writing course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' English writing and discussion skills, by helping them to write different kinds of paragraphs and finally to write simple essays consisting of a clear introduction, body, conclusion structure. It uses the first three chapters of the textbook to introduce various kinds of English paragraph structure and to reinforce understanding of and the ability to produce unified and coherent writing. The course then turns to chapter nine of the book to look at how to apply this knowledge and skill to write a basic essay. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- compose complex, multi-clause English sentences and expand use of more sophisticated conjunctions
- write logical English paragraphs (200-300w) and short essays (500w) on a range of academic and general topics
- expand specific vocabulary related to the reading, writing and discussion topics
- build understanding of the difference between spoken and written English
- improve reading skills (summarizing, note-taking) using longer, level-appropriate academic articles
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a wide range of topics related to their fields of study
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming
- express opinions supported by logical reasoning and convincing evidence
- work together with other students in collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the highest-level communication course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' already significant speaking and listening skills, by expanding their active repertoire of English vocabulary and structures to allow complex communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the textbook's wide range of topics and themes on society and culture as a springboard for planning, discussion, meeting simulation, presentation and debate activities, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- make academic presentations (with PowerPoint, etc.) in English on academic and other topics, in pairs, groups and individually
- expand ability to listen to academic presentations and complex multi-party interactions
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a relatively simple academic topics related to their fields of study
- manage common situations when communicating in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by logical reasoning and convincing evidence, backed by data and evidence
- expand analysis and research skills by using data to support discussions and presentations in class
- work together with other students in collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the highest-level writing course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' already significant English writing and discussion skills, by expanding their ability to write long paragraphs into essays consisting of a clear introduction, body, conclusion structure. It uses the first four chapters of the textbook to firstly review English paragraph structure, secondly to reinforce understanding of and ability to produce unified and coherent writing, thirdly to utilize and cite outside resources (references), and fourthly to apply this knowledge and skill to write a basic essay. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- write sophisticated, referenced, logical English essays (750w) on a range of academic and general topics
- be sensitive to the importance of citation and reference in academic writing and avoid plagiarism
- learn effective techniques for quoting, paraphrasing, summarizing, etc. the work of others
- deepen vocabulary related to target topics through in-class and further reading / research
- develop critical reading skills (identifying opinions and bias) using extended level-appropriate academic articles
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a wide range of topics related to their fields of study
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by logical reasoning and convincing evidence

【Outline and objectives】

This course, the lowest level communication course in the ERP, aims to support and strengthen students' existing speaking and listening skills, by building a solid foundation of English vocabulary and structures to allow simple communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the textbook's wide range of relevant topics and themes focused on society and culture as a springboard for planning, discussion, presentation and simple debate activities, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and confidence. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

【Goal】

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- make basic presentations in English, in pairs, groups and individually
- build ability to listen to prepared speeches and simple multi-party interactions
- engage in and lead simple discussions on a range of topics
- improve pronunciation to maintain a clear diction understandable by native speakers
- manage common situations when communicating in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing simple strategies for explaining, checking and confirming
- express opinions supported by simple reasoning
- work together with other students in simple collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the lowest level writing course in the ERP, aims to support and strengthen students' existing writing and discussion skills, by building a solid foundation of English vocabulary and grammar structures to allow simple written and oral communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the final three chapters in the textbook firstly to analyze and practice space-order ("on the left ... behind that") descriptive paragraphs, secondly to recognize and practice writing well-reasoned paragraphs supported by examples, and thirdly to build students' ability to write simple logical opinions in longer paragraphs. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and confidence. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- compose complex, multi-clause English sentences and become familiar with standard conjunctions
- write coherent, logical English extended paragraphs on a range of topics (300 words in length)
- build general vocabulary related to the reading, writing and discussion topics
- improve reading skills (skimming, scanning, comprehension) using short, level-appropriate articles
- engage in and lead simple discussions on a range of topics
- manage common written communication tasks (e.g. emails) in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing simple strategies for explaining, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by simple reasoning
- work together with other students in simple collaborative projects

Jonathan Docherty is from Glasgow in Scotland. He is a native speaker of British English. Jonathan has been involved in the teaching English as a foreign language industry since 2004. He taught across Europe for two years before moving to Tokyo, Japan in 2008. He has experience teaching a range of age groups and levels to Japanese students in the Kanto area and Aichi too. He aims to deliver interesting, communicative, fun student centred lessons through a blend of task based pair work and group work activities. He believes teaching English to be a challenging and deeply rewarding career. Punctual, patient and positive by nature, he hopes the students at Hosei University enjoy learning English.

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the mid-level writing course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' English writing and discussion skills, by helping them to write different kinds of paragraphs and finally to write simple essays consisting of a clear introduction, body, conclusion structure. It uses chapters five, six and seven of the textbook to introduce various kinds of English paragraph structure, to reinforce understanding of and the ability to produce unified and coherent writing. The course then turns to chapter ten of the book to look at how to apply this knowledge and skill to write a basic essay. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- compose complex, multi-clause English sentences and expand use of more sophisticated conjunctions
- write logical English paragraphs (200-300w) and short essays (500w) on a range of academic and general topics
- expand specific vocabulary related to the reading, writing and discussion topics
- build understanding of the difference between spoken and written English
- improve reading skills (summarizing, note-taking) using longer, level-appropriate academic articles
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a wide range of topics related to their fields of study
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming
- express opinions supported by logical reasoning and convincing evidence
- work together with other students in collaborative projects

【Outline and objectives】

This course, the highest-level communication course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' already significant speaking and listening skills, by expanding their active repertoire of English vocabulary and structures to allow complex communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the textbook's wide range of topics and themes on society and culture as a springboard for planning, discussion, meeting simulation, presentation and debate activities, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

【Goal】

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- make sophisticated academic presentations in English on academic and other topics, in pairs, groups and individually
- expand ability to listen to academic presentations and complex multi-party interactions
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a relatively simple academic topics related to their fields of study
- manage common situations when communicating in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by logical reasoning and convincing evidence, backed by data and evidence
- expand analysis and research skills by using data to support discussions and presentations in class

【Outline and objectives】

This course, the highest level writing course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' already significant English writing and discussion skills, by expanding their ability to write long paragraphs into essays consisting of a clear introduction, body, conclusion structure. It uses the second four chapters of the textbook to analyze and practice writing four different essay types: Process Essays, Cause / Effect Essays, Comparison / Contrast Essays, and finally Argumentative Essays. Through these units various writing skills are explored including organization, thesis statements, collocations, antonyms, summarizing, and so on. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

【Goal】

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- write sophisticated, referenced, logical English essays (750w) on a range of academic and general topics
- be sensitive to the importance of citation and reference in academic writing and avoid plagiarism
- learn effective techniques for quoting, paraphrasing, summarizing, etc. the work of others
- deepen vocabulary related to target topics through in-class and further reading / research
- develop critical reading skills (identifying opinions and bias) using extended level-appropriate academic articles
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a wide range of topics related to their fields of study
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by logical reasoning and convincing evidence
- work together with other students in collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the highest level writing course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' already significant English writing and discussion skills, by expanding their ability to write long paragraphs into essays consisting of a clear introduction, body, conclusion structure. It uses the second four chapters of the textbook to analyze and practice writing four different essay types: Process Essays, Cause / Effect Essays, Comparison / Contrast Essays, and finally Argumentative Essays. Through these units various writing skills are explored including organization, thesis statements, collocations, antonyms, summarizing, and so on. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- write sophisticated, referenced, logical English essays (750w) on a range of academic and general topics
- be sensitive to the importance of citation and reference in academic writing and avoid plagiarism
- learn effective techniques for quoting, paraphrasing, summarizing, etc. the work of others
- deepen vocabulary related to target topics through in-class and further reading / research
- develop critical reading skills (identifying opinions and bias) using extended level-appropriate academic articles
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a wide range of topics related to their fields of study
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by logical reasoning and convincing evidence
- work together with other students in collaborative projects

【Outline and objectives】

This course, the lowest-level communication course in the ERP, aims to support and strengthen students' existing speaking and listening skills, by building a solid foundation of English vocabulary and structures to allow simple communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the textbook's wide range of relevant topics and themes focused on society and culture as a springboard for planning, discussion, presentation and simple debate activities, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and confidence. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

【Goal】

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- make basic presentations (with PowerPoint, etc.) in English, in pairs, groups and individually
- build ability to listen to prepared speeches and simple multi-party interactions
- engage in and lead simple discussions on a range of topics
- improve pronunciation to maintain a clear diction understandable by native speakers
- manage common situations when communicating in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing simple strategies for explaining, checking and confirming
- express opinions supported by simple reasoning
- work together with other students in simple collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the lowest-level writing course in the ERP, aims to support and strengthen students' existing writing and discussion skills, by building a solid foundation of English vocabulary and grammar structures to allow simple written and oral communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the first three chapters in the textbook firstly to confirm students' understanding of and ability to write basic English paragraphs, secondly to analyze and practice listing-order ("first ... second ..." etc.) paragraphs, and thirdly to build students' ability to write written instructions, requests and so on. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and confidence. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- compose complex, multi-clause English sentences and become familiar with standard conjunctions
- write coherent, logical English extended paragraphs on a range of topics (300 words in length)
- build general vocabulary related to the reading, writing and discussion topics
- improve reading skills (skimming, scanning, comprehension) using short, level-appropriate articles
- engage in and lead simple discussions on a range of topics
- manage common written communication tasks (e.g. emails) in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing simple strategies for explaining, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by simple reasoning
- work together with other students in simple collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the mid-level writing course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' English writing and discussion skills, by helping them to write different kinds of paragraphs and finally to write simple essays consisting of a clear introduction, body, conclusion structure. It uses the first three chapters of the textbook to introduce various kinds of English paragraph structure and to reinforce understanding of and the ability to produce unified and coherent writing. The course then turns to chapter nine of the book to look at how to apply this knowledge and skill to write a basic essay. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- compose complex, multi-clause English sentences and expand use of more sophisticated conjunctions
- write logical English paragraphs (200-300w) and short essays (500w) on a range of academic and general topics
- expand specific vocabulary related to the reading, writing and discussion topics
- build understanding of the difference between spoken and written English
- improve reading skills (summarizing, note-taking) using longer, level-appropriate academic articles
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a wide range of topics related to their fields of study
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the highest-level writing course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' already significant English writing and discussion skills, by expanding their ability to write long paragraphs into essays consisting of a clear introduction, body, conclusion structure. It uses the first four chapters of the textbook to firstly review English paragraph structure, secondly to reinforce understanding of and ability to produce unified and coherent writing, thirdly to utilize and cite outside resources (references), and fourthly to apply this knowledge and skill to write a basic essay. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- write sophisticated, referenced, logical English essays (750w) on a range of academic and general topics
- be sensitive to the importance of citation and reference in academic writing and avoid plagiarism
- learn effective techniques for quoting, paraphrasing, summarizing, etc. the work of others
- deepen vocabulary related to target topics through in-class and further reading / research
- develop critical reading skills (identifying opinions and bias) using extended level-appropriate academic articles
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a wide range of topics related to their fields of study
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by logical reasoning and convincing evidence
- work together with other students in collaborative projects

【Outline and objectives】

This course, the lowest level communication course in the ERP, aims to support and strengthen students' existing speaking and listening skills, by building a solid foundation of English vocabulary and structures to allow simple communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the textbook's wide range of relevant topics and themes focused on society and culture as a springboard for planning, discussion, presentation and simple debate activities, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and confidence. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

【Goal】

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- make basic presentations in English, in pairs, groups and individually
- build ability to listen to prepared speeches and simple multi-party interactions
- engage in and lead simple discussions on a range of topics
- improve pronunciation to maintain a clear diction understandable by native speakers
- manage common situations when communicating in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing simple strategies for explaining, checking and confirming
- express opinions supported by simple reasoning
- work together with other students in simple collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the lowest level writing course in the ERP, aims to support and strengthen students' existing writing and discussion skills, by building a solid foundation of English vocabulary and grammar structures to allow simple written and oral communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the final three chapters in the textbook firstly to analyze and practice space-order ("on the left ... behind that") descriptive paragraphs, secondly to recognize and practice writing well-reasoned paragraphs supported by examples, and thirdly to build students' ability to write simple logical opinions in longer paragraphs. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and confidence. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- compose complex, multi-clause English sentences and become familiar with standard conjunctions
- write coherent, logical English extended paragraphs on a range of topics (300 words in length)
- build general vocabulary related to the reading, writing and discussion topics
- improve reading skills (skimming, scanning, comprehension) using short, level-appropriate articles
- engage in and lead simple discussions on a range of topics
- manage common written communication tasks (e.g. emails) in English both in Japan and when travelling abroad
- communicate actively by employing simple strategies for explaining, checking and confirming
- confidently express opinions supported by simple reasoning
- work together with other students in simple collaborative projects

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the mid-level writing course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' English writing and discussion skills, by helping them to write different kinds of paragraphs and finally to write simple essays consisting of a clear introduction, body, conclusion structure. It uses chapters five, six and seven of the textbook to introduce various kinds of English paragraph structure, to reinforce understanding of and the ability to produce unified and coherent writing. The course then turns to chapter ten of the book to look at how to apply this knowledge and skill to write a basic essay. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. For assigned tasks, students will receive verbal and/or written feedback from their instructor on general progress and points to improve.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- compose complex, multi-clause English sentences and expand use of more sophisticated conjunctions
- write logical English paragraphs (200-300w) and short essays (500w) on a range of academic and general topics
- expand specific vocabulary related to the reading, writing and discussion topics
- build understanding of the difference between spoken and written English
- improve reading skills (summarizing, note-taking) using longer, level-appropriate academic articles
- engage proactively in and facilitate discussions on a wide range of topics related to their fields of study
- communicate actively by employing strategies for explaining, reasoning, persuading, checking and confirming

[Outline and objectives]

This course, the highest level writing course in the ERP, aims to further develop students' already significant English writing and discussion skills, by expanding their ability to write long paragraphs into essays consisting of a clear introduction, body, conclusion structure. It uses the second four chapters of the textbook to analyze and practice writing four different essay types: Process Essays, Cause / Effect Essays, Comparison / Contrast Essays, and finally Argumentative Essays. Through these units various writing skills are explored including organization, thesis statements, collocations, antonyms, summarizing, and so on. These writing skills are always balanced with speaking and discussion tasks on a variety of engaging topics, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and critical thinking. In class, students will receive verbal feedback individually from both their instructor and classmates to help them identify and improve their weak areas. 【Outline and objectives】

This course aims to support and strengthen students' existing English skills by focusing on integrating the four skills of Reading, Writing, Speaking and Listening and building a solid foundation of skill strategies and language structures to allow communication on a range of engaging topics and situations. It uses the textbook's wide range of relevant topics and themes focused on society and culture as a springboard for collaboration in brainstorming and planning of ideas, writing short essays, discussions, presentations and simple debate activities, with a focus on encouraging active engagement, learner autonomy, and confidence.

【Goal】

By the end of this course, students will be better able to:

- make basic presentations (with PowerPoint, etc.) in English, in pairs, groups and individually
- build ability to listen to prepared speeches and simple multi-party interactions
- engage in and lead simple discussions on a range of topics
- communicate actively by employing simple strategies for explaining, checking and confirming
- express opinions supported by simple reasoning
- work together with other students in simple collaborative projects
- write coherent, logical English extended paragraphs on a range of topics (Approx. 250 words in length)
- build general vocabulary related to the reading, listening, writing and discussion topics
- improve reading skills (skimming, scanning, comprehension) using short, level-appropriate articles
- develop listening skills (gist, detail and note-taking) using authentic speakers discussing level-appropriate subjects.
